Nature

While I was clearing away dead leaves from my path recently a small wriggling creature caught my eye. It was a very young slowworm. I have come across adults around the compost before, so it was encouraging to know they are breeding in the garden. As I placed it in a safer place I was pleased that I had not injured it. Yet it occurred to me that sadly there are occasions when the only chance of seeing an animal at close quarters is when it is dead. I remember the occasion many years ago when the body of a large leatherback turtle at Seaton drew much interest from the public, most of whom had never seen a turtle before. Many of us have come across dead dolphins, though nothing compares to seeing actual individuals displaying acrobatically even at a distance. However, one day in August in Downerry my attention was drawn to the remains of a tiny bird, the size of a swallow, found close to the beach. It was a storm petrel, an oceanic bird that flutters over the sea, almost walking on water, and rarely comes close enough to the shore to identify. So to pick out the delicate features of this fragile bird was a unique experience. Then the next day I was invited to examine the plumage of a dead sparrowhawk that had flown into a window. An unfortunate, close encounter but beautiful nevertheless. Alan Payne

St Germans

A meeting was held recently involving some Parish councillors, Jesse Foot (our Cornwall councillor), representatives of Cornwall county council, two members of the Safe38 committee and Highways England. Discussions revolved around actions to improve road safety and air pollution from Saltash to Trerulefoot and even further on down to Bodmin. A lot of work lobbying Sheryll Murray and other government ministers has been done, particularly by Jesse Foot and the Safe 38 group. There is a large sign in Tideford put up by the Safe 38 group and you are asked to collect a car sticker from The Eliot Arms, The Halfway House or RBL Tideford to keep the focus of this campaign going towards a hopefully satisfactory conclusion.

Continuing with traffic problems, the Parish is planning on holding a meeting in each of the wards, in which we will invite the local residents to discuss what if any are their concerns regarding for example, parking. It is hoped to hold these meetings sometime before the end of the year. Issues will be collated and the feasibility of implementing them reviewed. The repairs due to be carried out at the St Germans play park starting on 10th September have been put back a week due to a shortage of the mulch needed to do the repairs. Finally, on the 3rd September, the RBL Tideford held a service to commemorate Merchant Navy Day; this was the second year it had been held to remember the lives lost by merchant seamen helping to keep the supply chain going during the wars. It was very well attended and included the Mayor of Liskeard. Teas and cake were provided after the ceremony for all those who attended.

St Germans Priory

St Germans Priory welcomes you to the Jazz Rock Cafe on Saturday 6th October at 7.30pm with music from 'Miss Marlene'. This is an informal evening to enjoy smooth jazz-rock music in a relaxed atmosphere. Small savouries will be available and wine and fruit juice will be on sale. Everyone is welcome to come along and enjoy the music of 'Miss Marlene'. The musicians are: Tricia Rogan - Vocals, Geoff Clark - Keyboard, Felicity Clark - Tenor Saxophone and Flute, Mark Flack - Bass Guitar, Ray Marks - Drums. We look forward to seeing you. All Donations to the Priory Trust.

News from County - Richard Pugh

I have requested that Cornwall Council liaise with the environmental Agency (EA) to dredge the river under and around Hessenford Bridge. A considerable amount of silt and stones has accumulated and if left unattended could cause flooding during the winter. The responsibility for any dredging is with the EA so when I get further news I will report again.

Cornwall Council spends over £5m every year keeping the streets of Cornwall clean. This includes an army of over 200 workers and cleaning over 40,000 miles-almost twice the distance around the world- each year to keep our streets as clear from litter as we can. Despite this effort, according to the 2017 resident's survey, 23% of people in Cornwall are not happy with the cleanliness of the streets.

Despite the fact that littering is illegal and carries a fine of £150 some antisocial people are still dropping their rubbish. To tackle this problem we are asking people to join a movement and pledge to make a litterless Cornwall. We want people to bag and bin their rubbish or take it home and leave only their footprints in sand. Supporting the pledge shows you care about Cornwall and helps provide much needed support and shows others that litter is not acceptable. Council members also endorsed a motion about the proposed merger of Devon and Cornwall Police with the Dorset force, expressing severe reservations about the way in which the consultation on the merger has been conducted. The motion stated that Devon and Cornwall Police and crime panel had expressed serious concerns about the lack of detailed information available and in particular the lack of published evidence about the envisaged benefits of the merger. As a result there was little option other than oppose the proposed merger.

Recycling rates for the first quarter are up by three percent-42% against a target of 39%. In the first six months of 2016, the Council received 10,295 requests for recycling bags. In the first six months of this year, the Council received 18,662 an increase of over 80%. Recycling is now more prominent in people's minds and we know our residents value Cornwall as a beautiful place to live. We consider that the combination of these factors has generated a massive surge in awareness and demand for recycling bags. If I can help anybody with Council related issues please contact me on 01503 220768 or richard.pugh@cornwallcouncillors.org.uk

Hessenford WI

This month we were delighted to welcome two local ladies, Kim Byles and Rose Bradley who told us about their walk along Hadrian's Wall. They did the walk over 6 days travelling from east to west. Kim, an ardent fan of history, found it very moving to think that they were standing where Roman soldiers had been nearly two thousand years before. Luggage was transported for them to each overnight stop in a range of farmhouses, b and bs and country house hotels. They enjoyed it so much they have a journey planned following part of The Way of Saint James in Spain. This time however they will be carrying their own luggage and staying in Youth Hostels. No doubt this will be a very different experience! We wish them well.

Our next meeting will be October 2nd in Widegates at 7 p.m.

“From Graduation to a Career as a Textile Artist” with Louise Nicholl.

Downderry WI

It was good to get together again after our summer break. many members turned up for a farewell lunch for Jo, who was leaving the district. Good luck in your new home, Jo; we shall miss your cooking and needlework skills! This was followed soon after by our September meeting ; “Reflections of a Cornish Man” delivered with words and song by Geoff Davis. Our home-made cakes once again sold well at the church Soup'n' Pud lunch, giving a welcome boost to our funds. Thank you to those who faithfully contribute to and help with this. October brings our Members' Meeting -no speaker- when we can discuss next year's events and put forward ideas of what we would like our WI to be and do. The more there , the better the discussion, so do please come along and join in ! 9th October at the Downderry Coastal Zone (the Chapel), 1.00pm.

Hot off the press is the advance notice for the Murder Mystery Evening being held in the Copley Arms raising funds for the Institute Building, next month not this month, on 17th November, so look out for further information and flyers regarding tickets for the event soon to be announced and distributed. I don't know how many of you have hosted or attended one of these Murder Mystery Evenings at someone's home, but for this one you can get involved as 'an actor' or just take part as 'an onlooker' in the audience, the more people attending the merrier so please support this. There will be a delicious menu to accompany the event too, thanks to Mike & Di and their team. Lots of you had ideas of what should be done with the building so it will be great to get an update on what decisions have been taken on the next steps in the plans regarding the Institute and the committee can give you the low down. It was lovely to see St Anne's Church full for the Christening of Izach Jonathan and both Sasha Pearce & David Watters, who took the service, said what a lovely atmosphere had been created in the church by all the family & friends, so thank you all for being so supportive. We look forward to having more Christenings taking place there. It was also lovely to see the church decorated for the Harvest Festival, & we enjoyed a delicious Bring & Share Lunch together too. Thank you to everyone who helped & contributed to this Parish Event. We'd like to send our Best Wishes to Mary Bosworth & Sue Salt who have needed some extra TLC lately & thank our NHS for looking after them. Look out for Mark, Petra, Jamie & Jack's gorgeous new addition to the village's pets called Kilian, named after a professional sky & trail runner, ski mountaineer & long distance runner. He's not out on the trails with the family yet but they'll no doubt have him out on training runs with them soon! Enjoy your Hallowe'en, however you celebrate it, but don't forget to stay safe while you do your trick & treating. Please keep looking for the ducks that are still AWOL, they haven't paddled out into the open yet & we don't want them heading out to sea!! And finally don't forget to contact me, Fran, if there's anything going on that needs a mention, I'm always glad of a bit of news from the grapevine. Gardening tips of the month: Don't forget to keep spending those pennies on Alison's table. Divide established rhubarb crowns. Cut back perennials. Divide herbaceous perennials. Move tender plants, including aquatic ones, into a greenhouse or conservatory. Plant out spring cabbages. Harvest apples, pears, grapes & nuts. Prune climbing roses. Finish collecting seeds from the garden to sow next year. Mow lawns & trim hedges. Renovate old lawns or create new grass areas by laying turf. Thought for the Month: In a world where you can be anything BE KIND [Anonymous]. Sorry that the September Birthday people didn't get a mention but I got edited! Dates for your diary/calendar: Open Mic Night, Wed 3rd Oct for all you budding musicians, Copley Arms Hessenford; Polperro CIC Fun Day, Sun 7th Oct, Big Green Polperro; Eden Marathon & Half Marathon, Sun 14th Oct for all you runners out there; Menheniot Firework Display, Sat 27th Oct at 5pm; Glass Shack Christmas Decoration Workshops, various dates in October. Seaton Butterfly Garden

We had a good turn out for the working party day, a big thank you to all of those who came to help. Andy and his pickax did a good job of some of the stubborn weedy shrubs and willow that seems to have seeded and spread, and the garden is definitely looking better. Thank you to the new residents who moved into the house next to the gardens, the big side hedge has been nicely trimmed. The sign has had some TLC, it's had some lovely oil treatment, and the words are now highlighted, so it now looks like a "proper" sign for the gardens. Mon Oct 8th - the second Monday of the month, is the next working party, but you can come along any dry Monday your're feeling fit.

Don't worry if you don't know anything about gardening, and struggle to dig the persistent weeds, there's always things that need cutting or snipping back. If you could bring your own gardening gloves, and any portable gardening implements, it would be good, though I always have a few extra implements. Thank you all . If you think you might be able to help, but are not sure, give me a call, Heather 250293

Do come along to the events listed or visit our website to add your comments”. Corinna Woodall, Tamar Valley AONB Manager, says: “It is vital that we set out the priorities for the Tamar Valley AONB now, especially with a once in a lifetime government review of protected landscapes and an opportunity for new approaches post-Brexit. Mustard Seed Property

helping adults with learning difficulties in Cornwall

Mustard Seed Property (MSP) launched an exciting new community share offer in March 2018, which seeks to raise funds to purchase a residential property in Cornwall that will provide a supported home for vulnerable adults with learning disabilities.

MSP was set up in 2007, by residents of Cornwall intent on providing the right support for individuals that need it. Back then we raised £300,000 and bought an old bed and breakfast and positively changed the lives of five families. Ten years on, this property has been through a number of iterations and is now used by St. Petroc's Society as a supported house for former homeless individuals.

To date we have raised £294,300 of our £300,000 target, through promoting the offer to the general public and Foundations, using our existing contacts and social media. MSP is inviting you to take the opportunity to invest in this offer, which will extend the world-renowned Cornish hospitality to the most isolated and at-risk individuals in the local vicinity. Dog Mess

Our private car park has had a major refurb and now is looking rather smart but on a downward note it appears that a very inconsiderate dog owner is letting their dog into our private car park so it fouls the area behind the wall/fencing adjacent to the garden of the house on at least 7 occasions (you know who you are). This disgusting behaviour gives good dog owners who clean the mess from their dogs a bad name. May I remind you that is an offence not to clean up any mess left by your dog. If you continue with this disgusting action I shall report this matter to the police and also regarding trespass onto private land.

A Very Angry Resident of Seaton Court.
